BARBECUE FEATURES EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

Several Hundred Citizens Brought Together at Walthall Sunday to Celebrate 80th Birthday of W. A. Hays—Walthall and Webster County Have Rather Unique History. People Keep Close to Nature.

The serene and somewhat historic little inland town of Walthall, thirty-five miles southeast of Grenada and the county seat of Webster county, had another rather unique experience Sunday, August 18 when something like four hundred kinspeople, neighbors and friends, coming from many quarters, assembled in a beautiful oak grove nearby to do honor to one of the worthy citizens of Walthall in the person of W. A. Hays, who celebrated his 80th birthday. A fine barbeque dinner was spread to take care of the inner man. Just before the table was in readiness, a very beautiful and appropriate talk was made by a son, Lake Hays, now a very promising young attorney of Memphis. It was largely through his efforts and at his suggestion that the birthday celebration was planned, and what he said in his brief speech, was a fine tribute to his aged father and showed that the higher and more enduring things had not been neglected in his rearing.

To the skill of Mr. J. J. Rebon of Memphis, should be given credit for the exceptional excellence of the cooked meats.

Shortly after the crowd began to gather, there were about twenty men assembled on the gallery of the Hays home and among these were nine men whose age, averaged 76 years.

The town of Walthall was named for Gen. Edward Carey Walthall of Grenada. Gen. Walthall is the officer who, when assigned a most difficult and well fortified point to attack the federalists during the Civil War and when asked if he was willing to undertake the assignment, said, "Give your orders General, I never sought a hard place for glory or a soft place for comfort." During the few years after the close of the Civil War, or from 1868 to 1875, when the carpetbaggers and newly freed negroes were in the saddle in Mississippi, the legislature made a new county largely out of Choctaw county and christened the new county Sumner, in honor of Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, one of the bitterest of the bitter foes of the South during the war and more particularly immediately after the war. But as soon as the native whites of Mississippi got control of the state, they proceeded to erase the name of Sumner and substituted therefor the name of Webster, also of Massachusetts, one of the very ablest and greatest men the country ever produced. It seems fitting that the county seat of this county should have been named for one of the younger, though less and bravest officers of the Civil War.

The court house seems to stand with more than an imposing dignity as a place where the controversies between men may be justly determined by arbitrament of the law. Nature with all of its charm and majesty surrounds the very little town and the court house and thus the wailing voice that comes out of the unknown somewhere and which ever pleads for fairness and right, echoes about its honored walls. Walthall is away from the maddening throng. It is not fettered by the rush and "go-gettiveness" which seem to so much obsess the larger centers. The town has been the Mecca for political gatherings for these years. Webster county polls a large vote, and its population being so largely rural, and engaged in farming, a majority of the voters in most elections have seemed to want to smite the powers that be, an inclination perhaps largely born of the idea that the farmers were weighted down with something, they knew not what—a view that every farmer justly has had cause to hold.

Only a few miles from Walthall is the old home of the celebrated Gore family, a people always honest and always courageous enough to give a reason for the faith they hold, in an intelligent and persuasive manner. One member of the Gore family is now a member of the lower house of the Mississippi legislature from Quitman county, and is one of the most faithful workers, most effective and able men in that body. The distinguished ex-U. S. senator, T. P. Gore, of Oklahoma, first saw the light of day near Walthall.

The town was long without anything but a dirt road, and that a very poor one. Now it is on highway 15, running north and south, which, by the way, is an exceptionally good road. But unless there is an upheaval in the business and commercial life of the state, Walthall and its good people will continue to enjoy that sort of isolation which has been their lot for a long, long while. The dis-

SENTINEL TO ISSUE FAIR AND PROGRESS EDITION

The Grenada Sentinel will publish at an early date an augmented issue in tabloid size of its regular paper under the name—The Grenada Sentinel Fair & Progress Edition.

The purpose of this edition is to exploit this particular section of Mississippi. In this respect the town of Grenada and the county of Grenada can speak with a pride based on a foundation as solid and as powerful as the famed rocks of Gibraltar. The two have a tale to be told, and in the telling of this story there are community facts to be revealed, capable of exciting unparalleled interest and as promising as the rising sun of a new day.

Grenada, and this means both city and county, has had an interesting past in the development of which progress has been the guiding motive; it has an equally promising future in the grasping of which progress will be the incentive.

That which past progress reveals is shown in its industries, its business and professional life, its diversified farming enterprises; and in keeping with the requirements of a growing community have come Grenada's beautiful and comfortable homes, her churches and religious activities, her unexcelled educational facilities, and her social and recreational life.

All these will be portrayed in The Fair & Progress Edition through pen and illustration. In order to make the Edition as attractive as possible many articles will be contributed by local residents on subjects with which they are most familiar, thus telling the story of Grenada's development with an authenticity unquestioned. The Edition will be illustrated also with many photographs of leading community builders and active business and professional men, of the city's churches, schools, beautiful homes, and points of interest.

In addition to these there will be stories of Grenada's industrial and commercial development, which also will be illustrated by such views as will vividly portray the progress.

In order to give the publicity which such a story deserves the publisher of The Sentinel has arranged to print many extra copies of The Fair & Progress Edition. These will be widely distributed not only locally but throughout the country at large, copies being mailed to prospective homeseekers, civic bodies, leading newspapers, libraries, and many business organizations throughout the United States.

In a word, the presentation of The Grenada Sentinel's Fair & Progress Edition will be such as to exploit through pen and picture the many advantages of Grenada and Grenada County in such manner as will invite new capital, new industries, and worthwhile new citizens.

The Sentinel has engaged the services of Messrs. Alfred Fielding, D. D. Davis and B. H. Campbell to assist in the task of gathering material for this edition. They are newspaper men of wide experience and are high-class gentlemen in every respect. This paper feels sure that the citizens of Grenada will accord them that courtesy and consideration for which Grenada is noted.

covery of oil or coal near there would mean a new day for that locality. In the final analysis when debits and credits are taken for the last time, it may be revealed that Walthall and the people of that section chose the better part to remain where they could daily commune with Nature and hear more readily the voice of Nature's God.

The birthday celebration of Mr. W. A. Hays added another jewel to the history of Walthall and Webster county, and was a day that will long be cherished by all present. The splendid men and women who gathered to pay tribute to Mr. Hays no doubt gathered new inspiration for life's duties and will look with more tenderness and thoughtfulness upon those whose brow is frosted by many winters.

The writer made the trip in company with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hoffa in their Chrysler 80. Young "Billie Hoffa" was at the wheel, and he is a good driver, and besides him, was the lovely young daughter, Martha, and Master Sel Jones. It was more than refreshing and inspiring to think of Mrs. Hoffa as she is now and as she was only a few short weeks ago when her life hung in the balance. She is a great woman and is deeply sensible of the gratitude she owes her Maker for her recovery. The older "Billie Hoffa", as usual, found it difficult to talk to varied ones he came in contact with during the day, but when Bill fell down, the writer scooped for him until he could get his breath.

The one who pens these lines had many times during the past fifteen years or more been in correspondence with Dr. E. F. Arnold of Bellefontaine, but had never had the pleasure of meeting him before. He is a delightful man and one worthy of the confidence which his neighbors and the people of that county place in him. Did we have the time and the newspaper space, would be more than glad to make mention of every man with whom we conversed that day, but since that is not possible at the present, besides A. L. Eudy and ex-sheriff Cartledge of Eupora, shall run the risk of being charged with making invidious distinctions by naming some of the oldest men present and giving their ages: Henry Moulter, 75, A. Finch, 80; J. L. Thredgill, 62, all of Eupora, and the following of Walthall or nearby: T. C. Crowell, 72, W. A. Hays, 80; W. H. Finch, 82 and W. H. S. Harvey, Mathiston, 82, and J. G. Woods, Grenada, R. F. D. 4, aged 83, and A. J. Zinn, Calhoun City, 70—all men who carry the stamp of good character in their faces and who give every evidence of men who think for themselves. Too much can not be said of the part the ladies played in the day's affair, but as usual, the delicacy of woman's touch and the lovely guidance of her judgment was markedly evident.

Messrs. J. T. Thomas and Sam Cain and Hon. J. N. Provine and son and Mr. W. C. Campbell, photographer of Grenada, were all guests of the occasion. Mr. Campbell took a picture of the crowd as they gathered around the festive board. Congratulations to Mr. W. A. Hays and also to his splendid son, Lake.

GRENADA WINS OPENER

Grenada took Senatobia's measure Wednesday to the tune of 3 to 1 in the first of a three-game series on the local diamond. The visitors outbatted Grenada but the locals hit when hits were needed. Senatobia's only run resulted from a double by Morris and singles by Gates and Smith while Arnold's bat accounted for all of Grenada's scores. He hit a homer and two singles in four times up. Phillips played a brilliant game at short for Grenada.

Gates struck out nine men and Brewer fanned six. Brewer won two of the last three games he has pitched for Grenada. Peoples was slated to go in the box for Grenada Thursday to face Hot Moore. It was understood that a large delegation of Senatobia fans would come down to see their favorite pitcher work.

CLOSES WEEK'S REVIVAL

Evangelist W. P. Jamison, of South Dakota, closed a week's meeting with three fine services last Sunday in Bethel Advent Christian Church at the Duck Hill and Alva highway. D. B. Steedly, 15-year old "junior minister" assisted Mr. Jamison and proved a great inspiration to the congregations at the various services. A "booster band" of young people was organized during the week and the way these young people led in praying and singing no doubt stirred many of the older ones into a renewal of their faith.

Mr. Jamison and his wife left Tuesday for Kilnic where they opened a meeting last night in the New Hope Advent Christian Church, south of Kilnic. It is probable that they will return to Bethel church after the close of this meeting for another series of services.

RUSH KNOX QUILTS AS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Tenders Resignation upon Condition that Impeachment Charges Be Dropped, Which House Promptly Does. Knox-Inman Investigation Brings System—Mitchell Succeeds on Fight against the Fee Knox.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 20.—Rush H. Knox submitted his resignation to Governor Bilbo at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and the governor wasted no time in writing the final chapter in the fight to oust the attorney general in a letter of formal acceptance.

"The terms are unconditional surrender," stated "Smiling Dan" McGehee, in answer to newspapermen's queries about a resolution being drawn up at the time.

A few minutes later the ultimatum to the state's attorney was announced as follows:

"Whereas, during the proceedings in the house of representatives of the state of Mississippi in the matter of the impeachment of Rush H. Knox, as attorney general of the state of Mississippi, the said Rush H. Knox has tendered his unconditional resignation from said office to the governor of the state of Mississippi, and the governor has accepted said resignation;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, by the house of representatives that the impeachment proceedings pending against the said Rush H. Knox because of such unconditional and accepted resignation from said office, be and hereby are discontinued and dismissed.

"Be it further resolved that, whereas, the house of representatives of the state of Mississippi has noted to prefer Article 1 of the impeachment charges proposed by it, standing committee to investigate state offices, in view of the said unconditional resignation of the said Rush H. Knox, the said Article 1 shall not be sent to the senate of the state of Mississippi.

"I herewith hand you my resignation as attorney general of the state of Mississippi effective upon the acceptance thereof," the impeached official tersely wrote to the man who, last October, ordered an investigation of the office of the state's attorney.

"I am just in receipt of your letter of today, tendering me unconditionally, as governor, your formal resignation from the office of attorney general of the state of Mississippi, your resignation being made effective immediately upon its acceptance," the governor replied.

"I hereby notify you that your said resignation from the office of attorney general of the state of Mississippi is formally and officially accepted by me as the governor of the state of Mississippi."

The attorney general's salutation was a formal "Dear sir." The governor addressed his political enemy genially as "Dear general."

That the movement that just ended in the driving of Mr. Knox from public office does not end here, however, is evident. In legislative circles much questioning is being done about what further action will be taken against abolishing the fee system. Evidence in the Knox case stirred up much opposition to the fee system in the state, this system being blamed even more than was General Knox.

It is generally believed that the fight against this system will open with full steam with the putting away of the Knox case.

General Knox leaves temporarily if not permanently—the stage of politics upon which he has been a leading actor for six years. He came into office six years ago from Chickasaw county, which county he served for fourteen years as district attorney.

Wednesday Gov. Bilbo appointed Hon. George T. Mitchell, of Tupelo, to succeed General Knox. The appointment was accepted and the new attorney general was sworn in the same day. He is one of the outstanding lawyers of north Mississippi and should make a most capable officer.

Methodist Laymen Make Answer To Action Official Church Body

Show that Charge They Denounced Bishop Unwarranted—If Gambler and Moonshiner Should Get Speedy Trial under State Law Laymen Unable to Understand Why Not Same Sance for High Churchman on Charge of Violating Church Law—Want to Know What Rights Laymen Have and If It Be True that Pope Would Like to Exercise Some of Authority of American Methodist Clergy—Challenge Any Who May Want to Try Them.

Since the called meeting of laymen of the M. E. Church, South, at Grenada, Sunday afternoon, August 11, at which time the laymen present adopted some resolutions setting forth their views as to what action the Methodist church, South, should take as to the allegations being made against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and which are being heralded throughout the length and breadth of the land and concerning which the Bishop has seen fit to issue a statement in circular form containing perhaps twenty-five thousand words, the official board of the Grenada Methodist church has been called together by the pastor at which time resolutions were adopted by a majority vote expressing disapproval of the action of the laymen on Sunday, August 11, and since much gossip is afloat touching the issue raised by the meetings, we therefore deem it proper to make this public statement as to the meeting of Aug. 11.

We respectfully submit that there was no "denouncing" of Bishop Cannon, or of any one else, in the resolutions of August 11, and we confess little less than amazement that any one should say there was. We charged Bishop Cannon with nothing, but sought to deal with the charges made by others against him, some of which, if press reports are correct, he has admitted, but is seeking to justify. The only sentence that could, even by the wildest stretch of the imagination, be construed as using a word, or words, anything akin to "denouncing" was this one: "That the matter involved be thoroughly gone into, and if the allegations which are being made against Bishop Cannon are found to be true, that suitable and proper discipline be visited upon him." There is a very wide difference between the meaning of the word, "discipline" and "denounce."

But it is stated that "we should wait," and let the General Conference, now nearly a year off, pass upon the charges against the Bishop. The Bishop himself, we believe, has indicated that he wants no judgment passed until the federal courts of New York have finished with his "bucket shop" friends, Kable and Company. If Kable and Company have funds sufficient to fight their case in the courts, and if the proceedings in their case are as long drawn out as in many similar cases, the end may not be reached for several years.

Lawlessness is abroad in the land, and the country is face to face with the spectacle every day of seeing those charged with grave violations of the civil law wanting their cases continued. Time is the violators' best weapon in defeating the ends of justice.

It will avail but little to preach and talk law enforcement for the gambler, for murder, the crap shooter and the moonshiner and the bootlegger, if those who make this appeal add one who should live above the clouds in escaping the law of his own church and the civil laws of some of the states within the jurisdiction of his church. Speedy action, in our judgment, is not only a matter of serious import to the M. E. Church, South, but one of grave concern to other Christian bodies. Pray, if the Bishop's robes are entirely clean, if he be innocent of what many of his churchmen accuse him, what has he to lose by a speedy trial? The maintenance of church machinery is of minor importance as compared to church confidence.

We are told that the laymen had no right to convene in the Sunday School building of the Methodist church, August 11. But is that not a rather strained construction of church jurisprudence? If that is a correct interpretation of the law of the Methodist church, we are led to inquire, "What rights have the laymen of the Methodist church in the church outside of that which the pastor is willing for them to exercise?" Are we to be forced to admit as correct a statement not infrequently heard that "the governmental machinery of the Methodist church is almost wholly in the hands of the ministry of the church, from nominating members of the board of stewards, and other local officers, on up to the general conference?" We often hear mention made of the autocracy of the Pope of Rome, yet we wonder, at times, if that church potentate does not often pine for some of the official autocracy of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States.

We are not unmindful of the debt that the country owes Bishop Cannon for the warfare he has waged against the liquor traffic, but there were, and are today, other Davids. It will hardly be disputed that Moses was a great lawgiver and that he rendered the world a service certainly equal to that of Bishop Cannon, but he transgressed and was denied that which he had long sought because of his transgression. Solomon was certainly as learned and as wise as Bishop Cannon, but transgressed grievously and was sorely punished.

We appreciate there are some so demagogical about the use of whiskey that they are worse than subtly intolerant, and that many of them are so deeply poisoned by the craze for drink that they would be willing to damn any one who crosses their pathway—with all such all good men are at war, therefore it is that we want to "lay aside" every weight and meet these on the battlefield, with clean records and with unspotted garments. Can't bear down on the gambler and the moonshiner and others with a right conscience while shielding some of the higher ups. If those in high place, the mighty and powerful, are held to a strict line of accountability, the little fellows down the line will get the lesson in a short while.

We most sincerely believe in the doctrine announced by Paul that if a brother "be overtaken in a fault, ye who are spiritual minded should restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted." But the Bishop's proponents admit no fault for him; a man that is not down cannot be picked up. No sort of satiety of sanctification can condone a wrong where the spirit of the Pharisee is apparent.

Laymen are sometimes at least just as sincere and are just as determined as ministers. We respectfully state that we believed in what we attempted to set forth in the resolutions of August 11, and are more than ever fixed in the convictions we held then, and we believe that time will show that we were serving well our church and the present generation by unequivocally facing the issue present.

We are persuaded that our friends of the official board were just a bit besides themselves the day they were passing their resolutions, otherwise they would not have allowed the fairness of the chairman of the board of stewards challenged without question from any of them.

We have heard of no endowment of the "official board" from on high that their voices or judgments should be overpersuading with those who see things differently. They may not know it, but there are many things that their mandates do not and cannot settle.

It was foreign to our purpose to ignore or overstep any church authority, or to inject anything not akin to a brotherly feeling into what we did. The official board surely would not charge that it was a "packed jury." The meeting was publicly announced and several members of the board were given an opportunity to read the resolutions in advance. We were anxious to have all the laymen possibly present because we honestly believed from what many of them had said to us and to others that the resolutions epitomized the will of the Grenada church.

It was far from the purpose of any one present to wound the pastor or any other minister, and in all sincerity we do not think any minister is justified in taking any offense. If we did wrong, or transgressed any law of the church, why we should be arraigned and tried. Surely there is some one courageous enough to prefer charges against us and to see that we are tried. We would welcome a trial.

Due to the great amount of advertising, much matter that should appear in this week's Sentinel is being crowded out. However it will make just as interesting reading next week and it will be carried at that time.

CHURCH BODY ACTION STIRS LOCAL LAWYER

Hon. Sam C. Mims, Jr., Displeased with What Official Board of Methodist Church Did in Regard to Expressions of Certain Laymen on Aug. 11—Unanswerable Verbal Shots that Cannot Be Dodged.

Editor Grenada Sentinel: As one of the laymen in attendance upon the laymen's meeting of the M. E. Church of our town, Aug. 11, an account of which was carried in your last week's issue, and in view of the subsequent meeting and resolutions of the official board of this church, I am asking leave to submit to the public the following explanation and comment in my own behalf:

I attended the August 11, meeting in response to a personal invitation by Dr. J. S. Sharp, a member of this church, and who, by the way, is a peer in every respect of any man in our church. The meeting, as understood then and now—and as recited in the resolutions adopted—did not purport to be an official meeting of the church or a representative meeting of the membership as a whole, but solely to express the views of the laymen present and voting for the same.

I was, and for that matter I am yet, and I think the other five "outlaws" that attended this "outlawed" meeting were, under the honest and rightful impression that we had the inherent, and inalienable right to give expression to our convictions on any public question, whether it be a question of state or church; and that it was not required of us that we first obtain permission of our preacher, or our brethren on the official board, so to do. While it is true, that under the rules and discipline of our church, the minister in charge has control over our church building; yet it is a provision that has heretofore been disregarded, and should be, as archaic. It is incompatible with an enlightened democracy, and democracy in a church is the next essential thing to religion—in fact it is concomitant with the religion of the Christ, the greatest democrat of all ages. I recall but one instance wherein this prerogative was ever exercised by a minister, and that was in our local fight against unification. And the result in that instance should be a warning to all concerned, that the "bench members" of the Methodist church will follow their leaders as long and as far as they think they are right, and no further.

The sum and substance of the "outlawed" resolutions was a request for a prompt investigation, by the proper authorities of our church, of the charges of immorality publicly preferred against Bishop Cannon, and not denied by the Bishop but only explained and interpreted. The resolution, of our brethren of the official board, state that in adopting these resolutions, we placed the church in a false light. The outlawed resolutions doubtlessly do not reflect the views of the official board, certainly not the fourteen that voted a censure upon same. But I am bold enough to challenge the inference that the great rank and file of the membership of my church believe that a charge of this nature against one of our church officers should be ignored and condoned, and that regardless of whether the official board be a bishop or a member of our official board.

I have no desire to create dissension in my church, or to be a party thereto; nor do I wish to be understood as attempting to cast aspersions upon our pastor and the members of our official board. I esteem them and recognize them as being fine Christian men. However, this issue and this incident present fundamental questions, questions and principles in which the future welfare of our church are involved, and questions and principles that will not be settled until they are settled right; and the sooner they are settled the better for the church and the cause it stands for.

In concluding this article, I will state, that, as suggested by some of our friends, doubtless our "resolutions" of Aug. 11, will prove to be a futile and impotent gesture, but we will have the consolation of knowing that we took a stand for what we honestly conceived to be right, and what we honestly conceived the interest and honor of our church demanded.

Respectfully submitted,
S. C. MIMS, JR.

FIRST BALE BRINGS 21½¢
The first bale of cotton from the 1929 crop to reach Grenada came in last Saturday, being raised by T. J. Phillips on his farm near Sabouza, 22 miles east of Grenada in Calhoun county. The bale was auctioned off Tuesday in the Grenada cotton exchange and was bought by C. W. Kosman, local cotton buyer. The price at which it was bought was 21½¢, including a small premium raised locally.

KEEP FRIENDSHIPS ALIVE BY TELEPHONE

Haven't you often wished that you could be with friends who have moved to other cities? They may be far away, yet you can easily keep in touch with them; talk over old times, and make plans for the future. When they're ill or when anniversaries and birthdays come around you can join them with your voice.

Recent service improvements have made distant telephone conversations a pleasure. Generally, connections are made almost as quickly as with local calls. In most cases you can hear just as clearly as if you were talking to a friend around the corner.

You'll be surprised, too, to learn how inexpensive these voice visits now are. At 8:30 o'clock in evening, and again at midnight, reductions are made in the station-to-station rates. And long distance calls return so much in the way of friendship and satisfaction. Keep friendships alive—by telephone.

EVERY DETAIL of its design makes for EASIEST CLEANING

SPOTLESS, gleaming white—the General Electric Refrigerator looks its part—guardian of the family food... and the family health. And, because of its special design, it actually is as sanitary and clean as it looks.

All the inside corners of the cabinet are rounded. You know how easy that makes cleaning. And the chilling chamber is so designed that you can easily clean all around it. Housewives who pride themselves on being "fussy" have commented favorably on this fact. And they like having the cabinet up on legs, for that gives them plenty of broom-room underneath.

No, all of you did not personally request the Louisiana Oil Corporation to render Loreco Smiling Service in Grenada. But the invitation to extend Loreco Service into this section has been more concretely and more carefully expressed even than by words.

Discriminating motorists from nearby parts of the State and motorists from Grenada who have become acquainted with Loreco products have extended a welcome to the Louisiana Oil Corporation.

From practically all sections in the state of Mississippi have come praises of Loreco products in the form of increased demand for Loreco Gasoline, Loreco Ethyl Gasoline and Loreco Motor Oils.

From no section have users been more satisfied when they were able to obtain Loreco products than from Grenada.

Loreco Smiling Service, its Red and White Diamonds dotting highways and towns, now practically cover the state of Mississippi. Few cities will be found without this service, and all will shortly know the meaning of Smiling Loreco Service.

Highways of Mississippi are becoming Loreco ways.

The Louisiana Oil Corporation has enjoyed this rapid expansion throughout the Magnolia State, because the people of Mississippi have shown a desire to get more miles from each gallon of gasoline and more motor protection from their motor oil. In Loreco they have found lasting satisfaction.

The Louisiana Oil Corporation are citizens of the state of Mississippi, and are building a permanent organization in this town. We welcome your visits, and encourage your patronage.

OUR FAIR AND PROGRESS EDITION.

In the columns of this issue of The Sentinel announcement is made of our forthcoming publication of The Fair & Progress Edition.

In the consideration of plans for the issue of this Fair & Progress Edition the publisher of The Sentinel has given every thought to each angle of the project. There are possibilities in such an undertaking that hold untold benefits. A presentation of the actual facts of a community, unvarnished by the gloss of highly colored and over-stated advantages, result only in the greatest good to that community. Grenada possesses advantages which do not need this coloring, and it will be the object of The Sentinel to portray them in the most effective manner through the columns of The Fair & Progress Edition.

The Sentinel has reached this conclusion because of its faith in the advantages which Grenada and Grenada County hold in their natural and undeveloped resources. They mean progress. The Sentinel believes that those resources are real assets, holding wealth which awaits development only. It believes that the story of that which can be accomplished will present such a tale as to awaken interest in our locality, both local and national.

The task of presenting this edition to the public is a huge one, and in order to do it full justice The Sentinel has augmented its staff. In doing this the publisher is actuated by a desire to promote the interests of Grenada and its people through the best which his organization can produce.

There is much to be gained from a project of this character. Progress only can result from it. But the progress of any community rests with its people. Cooperation of the people with the press is most powerful. The Sentinel looks for this cooperation on the part of Grenada's citizens; it looks beyond to the brilliancy of its goal—an awakened faith in Grenada, a progressive Grenada, a greater Grenada.

SULLENS MUST HAVE HAD A TORPID LIVER.

We have a suspicion that Capt. Sullens, editor of the Jackson Daily News, must have had a torpid liver when he penned the editorial which the Daily News carried August 19, under the caption, "Politics and Politicians".

The Daily News sees nothing good in politics and politicians. He closes a well and interestingly written editorial with these words: "To hell with politics and like-wise the politicians."

Our old friend Noah Webster defines politics as "the science and the art of government" and politician as "one versed or experienced in the science of government."

We fear our friend has been unfortunate in the political company he has been keeping, otherwise he would not have been seized with political nausea.

Our very limited experience with those usually termed "politicians" is that they class up well with all other men; that they are just as reliable and in many instances more loyal and more dependable than the average.

No, Fred, it won't do to quit the game because the politicians have not always taken the good advice we gave them without money and without price. What are we to do with all this good advice if we cannot tender it to those "versed or experienced in science of government?"

WATCH YOUR STEP ON THE FEE QUESTION.

Now that the mind of the public is inflamed because of the revelations developed by the lower house of the legislature in the office of the former chairman of the tax commission and in the office of the attorney general, which were the cause of the resignation of Gen. Rush Knox, the war whoop raised in 1924 which dehorned the revenue agent because of the fee system, and then turned around and gave the attorney general more fee collect powers, is again heard. The legislature had best be careful in this respect. Put an officer wholly on the salary basis, and who is going to look after the big fellows who dodge taxes? Circumscribe fee collecting powers and limit the time that an officer may force the honest tax payer to pay that which he may have ignorantly overlooked would be well. If the legislature wants to place a premium on tax dodging, let it wipe out all fees to collecting officers and the task will be done.

THAT INMAN "EXONERATION" (?)

Notice in one of our leading Mississippi dailies just after the first report of the committee of the house of representatives investigating the official conduct of Gen. Rush Knox and the former chairman of the tax commission, Cecil Inman, that the report of the committee practically "exonerated" Capt. Cecil Inman. Our friend that penned the lines no doubt thinks of Susanna whose mother said on one occasion, "I told Susanna that she was going too fast."

What if Dennis Murphree had been elected and the committee's charges are true, two state officials would undoubtedly have been rich.

The Sentinel repeatedly stated during the last state campaign that all was not well in the office of the state tax commission. Had our admonitions been heeded in that campaign, the state would not be faced with still another humiliating spectacle.

GEO. T. MITCHELL, ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Upon the resignation of Hon. Rush Knox, Gov. Bilbo named Hon. Geo. T. Mitchell of Tupelo as attorney general. Mr. Mitchell is one of the most widely known lawyers in north Mississippi, and is a good one. His appointment meets a very unfortunate situation very happily, and if he does not make the state a good officer, it will not be because of the lack of ability or because he has not the opportunity. We believe George Mitchell will make good.

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By LAFAYETTE ATKINSON
Superintendent of Education

In order for any business or organization to make a success of its activities it is necessary for the force, of the organization to come together at regular intervals for a discussion of the work and the various needs and make plans for carrying on a successful program. Thus, it is a vital element in the organization of a county or municipal school system for the authorities to hold, at the proper time, regular meetings for the purpose of successfully executing the plans and programs of the county schools. The teaching forces of this county are divided into three groups according to the type of school. They are as follows: The city, the consolidated, and the rural teachers. It is planned for the coming session that the initial meeting of the teachers will be held in separate units for the general organization of the year's work. The consolidated school teachers will have their first meeting on August 27 at 10 o'clock in the courthouse. Rural teachers will meet in the office of the county superintendent on September 28 at 10 o'clock to receive instruction, and supplies for the coming year. The city school forces will meet in accordance with the announcements from the city superintendent.

In addition to the initial meeting of the respective groups of the teachers there will be four regular group meetings during the scholastic year for the purpose of discussing some of the vital educational problems confronting the teaching forces of the county. Every teacher in the county is expected to be present and attend all meetings. Plans are being made to have programs that will meet the needs and be of interest to the teachers. The school calendar of the county will give the dates of the meetings.

The one-teacher rural schools, sixteen in number, will open for regular work on Sept. 30. This is the usual time for the opening of all rural schools of the county. It is hoped that all teachers and trustees of these schools will make announcements to the patrons and urge them to be present at the opening and insist that all children of the district be on hand for the opening in order to get the proper classification and a list of books for the session. A good beginning means a better year for the children.

TAKE THAT MALARIA TO ALLISON'S WELLS

Chances Are That You Will Be Relieved.

Allison's Wells, only about one mile from Way, Miss., grows more popular every year, and deservedly so. The crowds there now are immense. The accommodations are taxed to the utmost, notwithstanding the fact that the hotel has been enlarged and greatly improved during the past year or more, in fact the property is being improved every year.

There is hardly any water that can be found anywhere that is a surer cure for deep-seated malaria and many disorders of the stomach. So a week or more there gives one a surer cure from business care, while at the same time giving him an opportunity to meet hundreds of people from all over the state, and a few days of real enjoyment that tend to make one forget to think of being sick.

The property has long been in the Latimer family, and while the father and the mother have both gone to their reward, the sons and the daughters now in charge of the Wells seem to have inherited all the gracious habits of courtesy, kindness and carefulness of their parents, and they are keeping up the high standards of the property in every respect that is pleasing and satisfying to those who are partially run down or who may be afflicted with the depressing effect of malaria and its kindred troubles. Write Allison's Wells for rates and take yourself there for a few days.

L. C. ENGINEER SPEAKS ON ACCIDENT PREVENTION

S. A. Law, of Memphis, Illinois Central locomotive engineer who is well known in Grenada, addressed the Grenada Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday on the subject of accident prevention. Mr. Law has been devoting considerable of his time in recent years to addressing public audiences on this subject and his speeches show that he has given a great deal of thought to the matter. He did not confine himself solely to grade crossing accidents Tuesday but he covered many different ways one might avoid mishaps in his everyday life. He told of how his locomotive is inspected before and after each run and of the number of times it is inspected during its run. He said that the automobile driver should have his car inspected regularly so that any defects might be remedied and he predicted that the day is not far distant when the law will require regular inspection of automobiles. Mr. Law cited the appalling number of accidents happening daily in this country and he told his hearers that they could prevent casualties, as far as they are concerned, by exercising the proper care and caution.

The speaker held the undivided attention of his audience throughout his remarks and what he had to say was thoroughly appreciated by his listeners.

Secretary C. H. Calhoun quizzed the club for some minutes on the different phases of Rotary, asking them a series of twelve questions. When the answers to the questions were made known, few found that they had scored 100%.

Other guests Tuesday, besides Mr. Law, were Paul Gerard, of Cleveland, and H. D. Taylor, of Greenwood.

CARD OF THANKS

During the dark hours through which we have been passing the kindness, the sympathy and the goodness of our friends in Grenada and elsewhere have done much to help us to bear up under the great grief that has befallen us in the loss of our dear husband and father. Had it not been for these manifestations of sympathetic interest, the burden would have been too great for us. We appreciate every expression and every act of goodness and we pray that the Heavenly Father will reward each one of you. Sincerely,

Mrs. L. E. Thrash and Baby Grenada, Miss., Aug. 19, 1929.

Mrs. Arah (Dobbs) Irving, of Whitmore, Ark., is here visiting her father, Wesley Dobbs. It has been several years since she was here. Father time smiles upon her and he has not recorded in her features any marks of age. Mr. Dobbs, who has been sick for several years, always feels better when his children visit him.

Robert Ratcliff, of Memphis, Tenn., is in the city. He has spent seven weeks in service at the scout camp and always enjoys the outing which is accorded him each summer. He is associated with Monroe Franklin, a cousin who is chief cook and bottle washer for the scout boys. Robert loves to come to Grenada, and why not? His grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Ratcliff, is here and his presence serves to relieve her loneliness.

Mr. Wesley Dobbs, Jr., of Montezuma, Ga., is here visiting his father and brother. Mr. Dobbs is an instructor in the Macon Co. training school at that place. He likes his work and from all information, is well prepared to carry on. He is a product of our section and it gives us pleasure to note his success.

COTTON SUPPLY IS MADE KNOWN

Washington, Aug. 17.—The total supply of domestic and foreign cotton in the United States for the cotton year ending July 31 was announced by the census bureau today as 17,273,150 bales. Distribution for the year was placed at 17,467,195 bales or 194,045 in excess of the supply as indicated, due primarily, the bureau explained, to inclusion of all distribution items of the "city crop," which consists of rebaled samples and pickings from cotton damaged by fire and weather.

"We have used Theodor's Black-Draught in our family for nineteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family. I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right. I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, for I believe a way to prevent them is to keep the system clean."—Mrs. Doahie Terry, 1206 4th Ave., Decatur, Ala.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 50¢ a bottle, and can be bought from CORNER DRUG STORE

THE New BUICK

The Greatest success in all Buick history

More people have purchased New Buicks during the past two weeks than in any similar period of any previous year

The New Buick with Body by Fisher has met with a veritable landslide of public demand. Many purchased before ever seeing the car—many thousands of others placed their orders the first few days it was on display—other thousands have been taking demonstrations and then making Buick their choice.

More Buick owners have entered orders—more men and women who owned other cars have turned to Buick—more people who formerly paid from $1000 to $2000 higher for their automobiles have purchased Buicks—than ever before during a similar period in Buick's twenty-six year history.

The total demand during these two weeks is from three to five times as great as that for any other automobile priced above $1200.

Popularity so overwhelming carries an unmistakable message to every prospective motor car buyer: See the new Buick—drive it—compare it—and you'll quickly discover that it's the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the entire quality field.

To explain: If a $15.00 tire should fail within one year, it would be replaced at $1.25 a month from date of certificate.

When this tire is used on Salesman's cars, delivery wagons, or for any other commercial purpose this guarantee is limited to six months, except on bus and taxi tires or six inch or larger truck tires which are guaranteed under the standard 90 day warranty.

Should this tire after being in use but a short time, be accidentally injured, we reserve the right to have repair made by our dealer at our expense, when such repairs can be successfully made, or replace the tire on time basis. This certificate is still in force after a repair has been made.

Abuse of this tire by overloading or running flat automatically cancels this agreement.

LOUISIANA CORPORATION
BUYS PANHANDLE INTEREST

A. R. Dockery, local representative of the Panhandle Oil Company, which serves fifty-eight communities through bulk plants located in nineteen Mississippi towns, has announced the acquisition of his company's properties by the Louisiana Oil Corporation. The consideration was not made known. No changes in operating personnel are planned by the purchasing corporation.

The move is said to be in line with an expansion program being vigorously pursued by the Louisiana Oil Corporation. Acquisition of two other large Mississippi petroleum companies, bringing the total of new towns entered this month to almost a hundred, is being announced simultaneously in the localities affected. The Moore Oil Company, one of the larger independent operators in the state, and the Cook Oil Company operating in central Mississippi have become part of the Loreco network which now covers almost the entire state.

The Panhandle Company controlled approximately a hundred retail outlets and served hundreds of dealers through loaned equipment.

Loreco petroleum products, marketed by the Louisiana Company, are now being offered through the stations.

The Louisiana Oil Corporation with general offices in Jackson, is a subsidiary of the Louisiana Oil Refining Corporation, of Shreveport, one of the largest industries in the South. More than four million dollars worth of refining equipment, millions invested in producing properties, and hundreds of owned or leased service stations constitute an enormous investment in the manufacture and sale of petroleum products.

The Louisiana Company gained national publicity last week as the first major petroleum marketer in the country to utilize a wide-spread distributing system for the sale of an accessory line. The Acme Tire, manufactured especially for southern driving conditions, was placed on the market at several points in the Loreco territory with the intention of offering the southern tire to the entire territory as quickly as complete service facilities can be arranged.

Loreco products have been marketed in Mississippi for several years, and have met with a ready acceptance.

GORE SPRINGS WILL OPEN
NEW SESSION AUGUST 30

The 1929-30 session of the Gore Springs Consolidated High School will open Friday, August 30, at ten o'clock a. m. The building and grounds are now being put in order and many improvements are being made. Some new desks, maps, and laboratory supplies have been purchased, and new trucks with modern bodies have been provided for each school route. The outlook is good for a successful school year. Last session the school was placed on the list of probationary affiliated high schools of the state.

Arrangements have been made for appropriate opening exercises and the Rev. E. H. Cunningham, presiding elder of the Grenada district, who will be holding a series of revival services at the Gore Springs church, has been invited to deliver the principal address. A request has been made that the revival services for the ten o'clock hour on that date be held in the auditorium of the school building instead of being held in the Methodist church. According to custom a basket lunch will be spread at the noon hour. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the exercises.

The school officials have secured a strong and capable faculty for the ensuing session. The members of the faculty are as follows: O. D. Spratlin, principal; Mrs. O. D. Spratlin, primary; Miss Grace Gwynn, Williston, Tenn., third and fourth grades; Miss Ella Fay Hanna, Hattiesburg, Miss., fifth and sixth grades; Miss Dorothy Burton, Belzoni, Miss., seventh and eighth grades; and Miss Martha Martin, Blue Mountain, Miss., high school.

BETHEL CHURCH MEETING
CLOSED SUNDAY NIGHT

The meeting which has been in progress for eight days at Bethel Church, in the Pea Ridge community, came to a close on last Sunday night. This meeting has been, and is being pronounced the most successful meeting ever held in this church, in fact the most successful ever held in any church that the writer has ever experienced. Rev. J. H. Holder for eight nights delivered powerful soul-stirring sermons, calling the unsaved to repentance, and the saved to a greater life of consecration and service to the Master. Each sermon was heard by numbers which filled the church to overflowing. The meeting resulted in ten additions to the church, which is a large number for this community. However the number of additions is only a small part of the success of the meeting. The greatest success was in the deepening of those already members.

Those added on confession and baptism were Katie Mae Tribble, Vernon Allison, Bill Thomas, Lacy Thomas, Wilma and Delma Blood, worth, Inez and Annie Rounsaville, and by re-statement, Mrs. Archie Allison, and Miss Alice Tribble.

Bethel Church is served by Rev. R. L. McLeod as pastor. We have a large Sunday School which meets every Sunday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, and preaching services every second and fourth Sunday at 3 p. m. —Reporter.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB HEARS
SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

The members of the Young Men's Business Club had the pleasure at their meeting last Friday of hearing a splendid address by Prof. John Rundle, superintendent of Grenada City Schools. Mr. Rundle always puts much food for thought into what he has to say and his address before the young men was no exception. He spoke at that time on loyalty and reverence, pointing out how loyalty and reverence for the institutions of government—city, county, state and national—are so necessary in this day and time and how respect for the things of God made life more worth living. Mr. Rundle dwelt at some length on the youth of the country and showed how the instilling into young lives of the better principles would make of them better citizens. That his remarks will bear fruit in the heart, and mind, of his hearers there is no doubt.

G. M. Lawrence and J. E. Shaw, Jr., were appointed to draft resolutions on the passing of L. E. Thrash, late esteemed member of the club.

During the summer months the club has been meeting on Fridays due to the fact that Grenada business houses have been closing on Thursday afternoons but, effective with the first meeting next month, Sept. 5th, the meeting day will be changed to Thursday again. On that date it was voted to meet at Jake's Place, east of Grenada, to partake of a Brunswick stew and barbecued dinner.

TIRES AT WHOLESALE

In this issue of The Sentinel is an announcement that should appeal to every automobile owner in this section and that is the advertisement of the Grenada Grocery Co., in which it is offering guaranteed tires at wholesale prices. This concern, which is recognized as one of the largest and most progressive of its kind in the state and which is ably and capably directed by one of north Mississippi's most astute business men, J. H. Oliver, states that the only way it is enabled to pass such values on to its customers is by buying in large quantities and selling in large volume. In any business the more rapid the turnover the less margin of profit the seller expects and by disposing of these tires in great number, the Grenada Grocery Co. can pass along a great saving to the buyer.

The Giant Tire, selected after only the most careful consideration, is the tire featured by the Grenada Grocery Co. In addition to paying the postage and giving free tire-mounting service, the Grenada Grocery Co. gives, with each tire sold a certificate of insurance of tire mileage which is reproduced in full in its advertisement.

A careful study of the low prices on these guaranteed tires should prove of profit to the automobile owner and this paper suggests that every one of them study the advertisement.

WINONA WINS TWO

Winona evened the count with Grenada last Thursday when a homer, two triples, and two singles in the first inning off of Moore put the game on ice with four runs. Brewer relieved Moore in the first and pitched a wonderful game, especially since he pitched the day before in Winona.

Lilly pitched an exceptional game, allowing the locals only four hits.

The features were the pitching of Brewer and Lilly and the hitting of Barnett for Grenada.

Score: R H E
Winona 400 001 101-7 10 3
Grenada 010 100 000-2 4 2
Lilly and Ruby; H. Moore, Brewer and R. Moore. Umpires: Vaiden and Pearson.

REVIVAL ON AT ELLIOTT

The revival meeting in the Baptist church at Elliott, conducted by Dr. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Grenada, is still in progress. The first of this week the meeting had resulted in 52 additions to the church. The revival was so have closed last Sunday but the interest in the services demanded that it be continued.

The people of the Elliott community are being benefitted by the gospel messages and they state that it is one of the greatest revivals ever held in that section of the county.

Would You Know One
If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers—washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borosone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borosone at CORNER DRUG STORE.
